A student who does not meet ANY of the conditions is classified as a Dependent student. Exceptions to this dependency definition are made only in extraordinary situations on a case-by-case basis. Students with unusual and exceptional circumstances must show compelling reason to be considered independent rather than dependent.

To ensure compliance with federal regulations, there are limits to which circumstances can be considered for a dependency override. The following are not considered unusual circumstances for the purpose of achieving independent status for financial aid:
